There are many beautiful lakes in the vicinity of Brainerd and each bears some suggestive name. It happens, however, that the body of water at Campbell's stopping place was never christened and Miss Maud Simpson, daughter of Sam Simpson, who was visiting there last week had the honor of giving it the name of Lilly lake by which it will be known hereafter.

Finest the Salvationists.

The salvation army people are nothing if not persistent in keeping themselves before the public. On Sunday evening last they halted on Sixth street nearly opposite Totton's cigar store and refused to move on at the solicitation of Policeman De-rocher and he escorted the entire male portion of the army to the lock-up where they stayed until Monday morning. There were eleven of the number before His Honor at 10 a. m. on that day and each gave $50 bail to appear for trial Wednesday. The services of Judge Hall and J. N. Barnes of Minneapolis, were secured, and the cases against Capt. and Mrs. Trudgemon and Cadet Lindstrom were taken up, the charges against the others being dismissed. The result was that in each case a fine of $25 or thirty days in jail was imposed for the disturbance on June 25th. A stay of ten days was taken and the case will be appealed.

Capt. Trudgemon and his wife intended leaving the city on Wednesday morning as they had been called in by headquarters, probably on account of the trouble that had been created here.

Satisfactorily Settled.

The street railway matter has been settled in a manner which suits all concerned. The mayor vetoed the ordinance as it was amended and passed, the reason being that the parties receiving the franchise were not compelled to build the railway any further south than Front street and Mayor Hagberg thought it should at least go to the corner of Quince and Sixth. At a special meeting of the council on Saturday evening the ordinance was passed by a unanimous vote. An ordinance with the amendment that the line be built from Rice lake to the corner of Sixth and Quince streets was then passed, the rules were suspended and the second reading had and it was placed upon its final passage and the ordinance has received the mayor's signature.

The Coming Minnetonka.

The club house on the Old Mission at Gull lake was occupied last week by a party consisting of Mrs. W. B. Kolman, Mrs. J. E. Goodman, Miss E. G. Morser, J. W. Bailey and Mr. and Mrs. N. H. Ingerson. This week Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Ferris, Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Foster and Mrs. Rosa Parker sojourned there. By the way Gull lake is destined to become a lively rival of Minnetonka in the near future as all the land around its shores is being picked up by parties who expect to use it for summer residences and pleasure resorts. By August 1st W. B. Chambers will have his resort, which will be called the Hotel Chambers, ready for guests and it will be a model hotel in all respects. The location is a very desirable one, situated between the two lakes, Round and Gull, with a commanding view of both, and is situated on the finest fishing grounds in Minnesota without exception. The gentleman will put a steamer on the lake to run from his hotel to the depot of the Brainerd & Northern Minnesota railroad which will be located four miles from his place diagonally across the lake on the north shore.

Then, too, the company expects to plant four forties at the station and lay it out into business lots and property especially adapted to summer residences and already many applications have been made for the same.

D. M. Clark and J. F. McGinnis have secured a 40-acre tract just west of the property that the company will plant and they are preparing to build comfortable summer residences there.

Besides the club house on the Mission I. U. White has a comfortable cottage just above Bishop's and J. McNaughton has a resort at the lower end of the lake, and during the coming season there will be at least a score of other summer residences built along the shores of the lake.

Police Patrol.
Read what the press say of the "Police Patrol."

Every act is set with handsome and appropriate scenery. Two beautiful horses, trained in the police service, enact their part to perfection. The cast is strong throughout, and the play of intense interest, interspersed with excellent comedy, well selected musical features and strong dramatic situations.—Boston Herald.

"The Patrol" seems to have all the essentials of success. The principal incidents of the play are carefully and effectively presented. The scene in the Haymarket Square is realistic and very strong and quite deserves the uproarious commendation it receives.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

"The Patrol" is no doubt a success from a financial point of view, and was well received. The realistic scenes were enthusiastically applauded, and the participants called before the curtain. The stage settings were handsome and appropriate, and the company strong.—Chicago Daily News.

The pruning knife has been promised for "The Patrol," and with judicious cutting can be made a powerful play in its scenes of realism.—Chicago Evening Mail.

There are many beautiful lakes in the vicinity of Brainerd and each bears some suggestive name. It happens, however, that the body of water at Campbell's stopping place was never christened and Miss Maud Simpson, daughter of Sam Simpson, who was visiting there last week had the honor of giving it the name of Lilly lake by which it will be known hereafter.

Finest the Salvationists.

The salvation army people are nothing if not persistent in keeping themselves before the public. On Sunday evening last they halted on Sixth street nearly opposite Tetton's cigar store and refused to move on at the solicitation of Policeman De-rocher and he escorted the entire male portion of the army to the lock-up where they stayed until Monday morning. There were eleven of the number before His Honor at 10 a. m. on that day and each gave $50 bail to appear for trial Wednesday. The services of Judge Hall and J. N. Barnes of Minneapolis, were secured, and the cases against Capt. and Mrs. Trudgeon and Cade Lindstrom were taken up, the charges against the others being dismissed. The result was that in each case a fine of $25 or thirty days in jail was imposed for the disturbances on June 25th. A stay of ten days was taken and the case will be appealed.

Capt. Trudgeon and his wife intended leaving the city on Wednesday morning as they had been called in by headquarters, probably on account of the trouble that had been created here.

Satisfactorily Settled. The street railway matter has been settled in a manner which suits all concerned. The mayor vetoed the ordinance as it was amended and passed, the reason being that the parties receiving the franchise were not compelled to build the railway any further south than Front street and Mayor Hagberg thought it should at least go to the corner of Quince and Sixth. At a special meeting of the council on Saturday evening the ordinance was passed by a unanimous vote. An ordinance with the amendment that the line be built from Rice lake to the corner of Sixth and Quince streets was then passed, the rules were suspended and the second reading had and it was placed upon its final passage and the ordinance has received the mayor's signature.

The Coring Minnetonka. The club house on the Old Mission at Gull lake was occupied last week by a party consisting of Mrs. W. B. Kolman, Mrs. J. E. Goodman, Miss E. G. Morser, J. W. Bailey and Mr. and Mrs. N. H. Ingerson. This week Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Ferris, Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Foster and Mrs. Rosa Parker sojourned there. By the way Gull lake is destined to become a lively rival of Minnetonka in the near future as all the land around its shores is being picked up by parties who expect to use it for summer residences and all pleasure resorts. By August 1st W. B. Chambers will have his resort, which will be called the Hotel Chambers, ready for guests and it will be a model hotel in all respects. The location is a very desirable one, situated between the two lakes, Round and Gull, with a commanding view of both, and is situated on the finest fishing grounds in Minnesota without exception. The gentleman will put a steamer on the lake to run from his hotel to the depot of the Brainerd & Northern Minnesota railroad which will be located four miles from his place diagonally across the lake on the north shore. Then, too, the company expects to plat four forties at the station and lay it out into business lots and property especially adapted to summer residences and already many applications have been made for the same.

D. M. Clark and J. F. McGinnis have secured a 40-acre tract just west of the property that the company will plat and they are preparing to build comfortable summer residences there.

Besides the club house on the Mission I. U. White has a comfortable cottage just above Bishop's and J. McNaughton has a resort at the lower end of the lake, and during the coming season there will be at least a score of other summer residences built along the shores of the lake.

FOR NELSON AND KENDALL.

A Lively Time Was Had at the Cass County Convention Yesterday.

The republican convention for Cass county was held at Gull River yesterday afternoon for the election of delegates to the state and congressional conventions.

Mr. Searles' managers, however, laid their plans to have the delegates from Cass listed in their column, and from twelve to fifteen gentlemen from St. Cloud landed in Brainerd on Wednesday early and began to carefully look the field over with a view of making sure of securing what they came after.

The convention was called to order at the school house at 3 o'clock by chairman Nary. The attendance was good there being 90 voters present but the Kendall sentiment prevailed to such an extent that the gentlemen who had come from St. Cloud were somewhat disgruntled, but they went into the campaign hoping that the unexpected would happen. In this they were disappointed, and the following Kendall delegation was elected by a vote of 22 to 77:

L. B. McEwen, J. S. Murphy, Ed. Lorely, C. A. Ruffe, Frank Thomas, George Hardy, W. B. Jones and Gilman Crane.

Delegates to the state convention were elected as follows:

T. J. Nary, Sam Lewiston, Chas. Griffith, Chas. Ruffe, L. B. McEwen, and F. T. Hogan.

After participating in the convention regularly called, and staying until its deliberations were completed, W. H. Jallet and G. H. Whipple continued themselves chairman and secretary of a rump convention, but who were elected delegates by this side show for Mr. Searles' use.

If there have been any like occurrences in the district, the Searles' followers must be getting hard up for delegates. The convention was regularly called, and the men who finally went into another meeting participated in it. The St. Cloud contingent were there in force, and it was through their advice, probably, that the bell was made. We do not think that the contesting delegates will have the gall to appear and demand admission to the Duluth convention.

If they intended bolting, why did they participate in the regularly called convention? The chairman of the congressional committee can do nothing else in fairness but admit the delegates of the convention which was regularly called to a voice in the temporary organization, as they fairly represent the sentiment of a large majority of the voters of Cass county.

Benevolent Party: My man, don't you think fishing is cruel sport? Fisherman: Cruel? Well, I should say so. I have sat here six hours and have not had a bite, been nearly eaten up by the mosquitoes, and the sun has parched the back of my neck.

Benevolent Party: You should have a bottle of Krause's German Oil. It would not only drive the mosquitoes away, but would be soothing and healing to your blistered neck.

Survivors of the Blueberry War.

The early settlers of Brainerd remember distinctly the "blueberry war" of 1872 and the following from the Pioneer Press will not be uninteresting:

"The 'blueberry war' was it was humorously called, took place twenty years ago. An Indian outbreak seemed imminent in the northern part of Minnesota, and the memory of the then comparatively recent Indian massacre made the settlers apprehensive.

There was a hasty midnight summons from Brainerd to St. Paul, imploring aid for the defenseless women and children. This was on July 25, 1872, and Companies A, B and D of the then First Regiment, N. G. S. M., made a prompt response to the appeal from the sheriff, and were soon on the march for the first time that they had ever encountered the crafty and blood-thirsty savages. It turned out that the danger had been exaggerated, and the members of the companies were disappointed. The companies were ordered to return to the 'blueberry war,' but in spite of the harmless fun the papers and the public gave the boys full credit for their readiness, however, disagreeable and dangerous. July 25, of this year, will be the twentieth anniversary of the departure for the war," and has been observed by holding a social and an informal banquet in celebration of the occasion.

MAN'S PERFDY TO WOMAN.

The Sad Story of a Confiding Girl and a Villainous Lover.

The perversion of gratitude which will prompt a man, when temporarily blinded by his desires, to slay the person who has sacrificed everything for him, is incomprehensible to the members of the medical profession who have made the aberration of the human mind a special study; the layman does not even attempt to account for it, and we must be content to wait until the next time it occurs.

The recent murder of Miss Maggie Williams in Cambridge, Mass., is a striking case in point. Miss Williams was a hard working girl of a kindly disposition, and was employed as a domestic by various families, all of whom were much pleased with her. She was a native of the town of Cambridge, Mass., and was a member of the First Baptist Church.

Between him and Miss Williams a strong attachment sprang up, and as subsequent developments have shown, a man of this kind is never content with deceiving the poor girl in every possible manner. He even went to the length of getting her to leave her home and to come with him to pay his board, but his landlady never received a cent of the money.

On the 11th of July, 1891, the body of Miss Williams was found in a shallow grave in the woods near her home. The body was so badly decomposed that it was impossible to identify it, but it was found to be that of a young woman of about 20 years of age.

The ladies of the Swedish Baptist church will give an ice cream festival at Angel's Hall in Southeast Brainerd on Friday evening, July 23d. All are cordially invited.

Al. Nason, of Grand Rapids, and well known in this city, was convicted of selling liquor to Indians and sentenced to six months in the Hennepin county jail besides paying a fine of $100.

Joe Cohen visited several days with relatives and friends in Brainerd this week. During his stay he did some very tasty work in trimming the show windows in H. L. Cohen's dry goods establishment.

The vacant building next to the rink has been rented by Peter Johnson and is being remodeled and fitted up for a first-class bakery which will be conducted by Mrs. Johnson. In connection a confectionery and fruit business will be carried on.

Ira M. Mallory, editor and proprietor of the Nunda (Ill.) Herald was a caller at this office on Monday being on his way home from the Pacific coast. C. H. N. M. and R. H. Paine were old acquaintances of his and he visited a day or two with them.

Fred A. Kribs, of Park Rapids, but who is now connected with the government engineering party in the Red Lake country, was in the city yesterday. Mr. Kribs informs us that it will take anywhere from seven to ten years to complete the work at the rate they are going now. While resting the gentleman is looking up political matters for a change.

There are many beautiful lakes in the vicinity of Brainerd and each bears some suggestive name. It happens, however, that the body of water at Campbell's stopping place was never christened and Miss Maud Simpson, daughter of Sam Simpson, who was visiting there last week had the honor of giving it the name of Lilly lake by which it will be known hereafter.

FINED THE SALVATIONISTS.

The salvation army people are nothing if not persistent in keeping themselves before the public. On Sunday evening last they halted on Sixth street nearly opposite Tetton's cigar store and refused to move on at the solicitation of Policeman De-rocher and he escorted the entire male portion of the army to the lock-up where they stayed until Monday morning. There were eleven of the number before His Honor at 10 a. m. on that day and each gave $50 bail to appear for trial Wednesday. The services of Judge Hall and J. N. Barnes of Minneapolis, were secured, and the cases against Capt. and Mrs. Trudgeon and Cadet Lindstrom were taken up, the charges against the others being dismissed. The result was that in each case a fine of $25 or thirty days in jail was imposed for the disturbances on June 25th. A stay of ten days was taken and the case will be dropped.

Capt. Trudgeon and his wife intended leaving the city on Wednesday morning as they had been called in by headquarters, probably on account of the trouble that had been created here.

Satisfactorily Settled.

The street railway matter has been settled in a manner which suits all concerned. The mayor vetoed the ordinance as it was amended and passed, the reason being that the parties receiving the franchise were not compelled to build the railway any further south than Front street and Mayor Hagberg thought it should at least go to the corner of Quince and Sixth.

At a special meeting of the council on Saturday evening the ordinance was passed by a unanimous vote. An ordinance with the amendment that the line be built from Rice lake to the corner of Sixth and Quince streets was then passed, the rules were suspended and the second reading had and it was placed upon its final passage and the ordinance has received the mayor's signature.

The Coming Minnetonka.

The club house on the Old Mission at Gull lake was occupied last week by a party consisting of Mrs. W. B. Kolman, Mrs. J. E. Goodman, Miss E. G. Morser, J. W. Bailey and Mr. and Mrs. N. H. Ingersoll. This week Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Ferris, Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Foster and Mrs. Rosa Parker sojourned there. By the way Gull lake is destined to become a lively rival of Minnetonka in the near future as all the land around its shores is being picked up by parties who expect to use it for summer residences and pleasure resorts. By August 1st W. B. Chambers will have his resort, which will be called the Hotel Chambers, ready for guests and it will be a model hostelry in all respects. The location is a very desirable one, situated between the two lakes, Round and Gull, with a commanding view of both, and is situated on the finest fishing grounds in Minnesota without exception. The gentleman will put a steamer on the lake to run from his hotel to the depot of the Brainerd & Northern Minnesota railroad which will be located four miles from his place diagonally across the lake on the north shore.

Then, too, the company expects to play four fortunes at the station and lay it out into business lots and property especially adapted to summer residences and already many applications have been made for the same.

D. M. Clark and J. F. McGinnis have secured a 40-acre tract just west of the property that the company will plant and they are preparing to build comfortable summer residences there.

Besides the club house on the Mission I. U. White has a comfortable cottage just above Bishop's and J. McNaughton has a resort at the lower end of the lake, and during the coming season there will be at least a score of other summer residences built along the shores of the lake.

Police Patrol.

Read what the press say of the "Police Patrol."

Every act is set with handsome and appropriate scenery. Two beautiful horses, trained in the police service, enact their part to perfection. The cast is strong throughout, and the play of intense interest, interspersed with excellent comedy, well selected musical features and strong dramatic situations.—Boston Herald.

"The Patrol" seems to have all the essentials of success. The principal incidents of the play are carefully and effectively presented. The scene in the Haymarket Square is realistic and the uproarious commotion it receives.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

"The Patrol" is no doubt a success from a financial point of view, and was well received. The realistic scenes were enthusiastically applauded, and the participants called before the curtain. The stage settings were handsome and appropriate, and the company strong.—Chicago Daily News.

The pruning knife has been promised for "The Patrol," and with judicious cutting can be made a powerful play in its scenes of realism.—Chicago Evening Mail.

Will be at the Opera House Thursday July 21st.
